The Adventures of Fred the Snowman

BY SIERRA

During the day, two children make Fred, the snowman in the National Mall in Washington D.C.

Fred goes to the U.S Capitol and gets a tour of it with a Senator.

Then he goes to the Washington Monument and goes to the top of the Monument.

After the monument, he goes to the Supreme Court and takes pictures.

Finally Fred decides to go to the White House and see the President and his family.

He ends up living with the President and his kids.

Together the president and Fred sip hot coca in the Oval Office and Fred slowly starts to melt.

Freezer

The President puts him in a giant freezer.
